STREET RAILWAY SCHEMES. WILL SHARP'S FRANCHISE BE SIGNED!

SHARP'S LAWYERS URGE FAVORABLE ACTION-THE OTHER BROADWAY COMPANIES-CABLE ENTER-PRISES.

Robinsen, Scribner & Bright, the counsel for the Broadway Surface Railroad Company, yesterday presented to Mayor Edson a brief in support of the consent given by the Common Council to the construction of a railroad in Broadway by that company, together with an affidavit by Mr. Foshay, President of the Broadway and Seventh Avenue Railroad Company, setting forth that his company has entered into an arrangement with the Broadway Surface Company for the continuous carriage of passengers from the foot of Broadway to Central Park for five cents. The lawyers argue that it is generally conceded that a railroad is needed in Broadway and that the company they represent ought to have the franchise without bidding for it at public auction. They declare that their route to Central Park is more direct than those of rival companies, and that the latter contemplate carrying their toads un Fifth-ave, to Central Park. They attack the New-York Cable Railway Company, declaring that it is undesirable to add to the vast routes which it already claims as its franchise under the Rapid Transit act. They add that a veto can only result "in delaying an important public improvement."

The Mayor has until 12 o'clock to-morrow to make up his mind in regard to the Alderment resolutions. The prevailing impression is that he will send a veto message to the Aldermen at their meeting. If he does so it must be over under the rules until the next meeting of the Board, but it is thought that the Aldermen will ultimately passible measure over the veto.

The officers of the two other railroad company and the content of the grain pression of measure over the veto.

The officers of the two other railroad commeasure over the veto.

The officers of the two other railroad companies that seek to gain possession of Broadway argue that such action of the Aldermen would not necessarily be final as against them. They say that the city authorities might give their consent to the building of half a dozen railways on Broadway, and that if they should do so, the comgany that also obtained the consent of the property-owners, or, in hen of that, favorable action on the part of the Commission appointed by the Supreme Cont (provided such action is confirmed by the Court), would be entitled to the franchise. If the present Board gives its consent only to the construction of a road by the Broadway Surface Railroad Company an effort will be made by the other companies to get the consent of the new Board that will take office in Jasuary to the building of their roads. The New-York Cable Railway Company is still engaged in procuring the consent of property-owners on various routes and especially that on Lexingtonave, Lafayette Place, Crosby, William and Broad sits, to the Battery, with connections through intervening property. Its officers are considering the advisability of changus this route so as to lay the tracks in Baxter and William sits, and of making an effort to have those streets widened so as to make a broad thoroughfare, which they declare would be a relief to Broadway, and would benefit property which is not now very valuable on those streets. THE TENTH AVENUE CABLE ROAD.

Streets.

The tenth avenue cable road.

Work on the Cable Railway, now infootise of construction on Tenth-ave, between 125th st. and the Harlem river, is rapidly going on. The Third Avenue Railroad Company, by which this branch road is built, has paid for three quarters of the material required, which is already on the ground, and its officers promise that no time skall be lost in completing it. At the depot of the company at Sixty-infth-st. and Third-ave, a miniature cable railroad is in successful operation. It is constructed upon the plan adopted for the road on Fourth-ave, and works so satisfactorily that the officers are confident that it will be a success upon a large scale, and contemplate the ultimate extension of the system from feath-ave through One-hundred-and-twenty-infth-st, and down Third-ave, replacing with the cable the horse power now in use. It is even anticipated that the cable may be carried not only to the Post Office, but also connected with the line, now operated by horse power, from Vesey-st, through New Church-st, to South Ferry, which the Third Avenue Raifroad Company has recently purchased. If this is done there will be a continuous cable railroad from the Battery to High Bridge operated by this company. Meantime, commodious cars for the experimental road on Tenth-ave, are being built, the cables are nearly ready, the castings to be placed beneath the road-bed are being put in position and Vice-President Hart expresses the helief that everything will be in working order within two months. Work on the substantial engine-house and depot at Tenth-ave, and One-hundred-and-twenty-seventhest, has been retarded by the bricklayers' strike and the illness of Coloned James J. Mooney, who has the contract for its construction. But for this and unlooked-for difficulties arising from the position of the water pipes in Tenth-ave, the road would have been completed and open to public travel on August 1.

The details of what is said to be the forgery of a bank draft, with the capture of the alleged forger and the recovery of all the money obtained on the draft, were made public yesterday. 2 Larly in the draft, were made public yesterday. 2 Larly in the former a man giving the name of John Hunt brought letters of introduction to the Furst National Bank of Deadwood, D. T. He amounced his intention of going sinto the business of dealing in mining claims. After opening a small account he went to Detroit and was absent three weeks. When he came back to Deadwood he gave the cashier a tin box, said to contain valuable securities, to care for. A few days later, while the easher was absent, Hunt took from the box a draft for $9.500 on the National Rank of the Republic, of thit city purporting to be drawn in his tayor by the Market Bank of Detroit, At his request the assistant cashier cashed the draft. Hunt taking $6,000 in cash and leaving the rest to his credit. The draft was forwarded for collection to Kountze Bros., bankers in the Lauringhe Building, and correspondents of the Peadwood Bank, and was paid by the Bank of the Kepublic about two weeks ago.

The suspicions of the cashier of the Deadwood Bank were aroused when he returned to his post, and upon telegraphic communication with the Market Bank of the Kepublic about two weeks ago. THE SOCIETIES OF THE RED CROSS.

Among the passengers who sailed for Europe yesterday on board the City of Chester was a quiet, demare, kindly-looking little woman, who moved about the crowded and bustling deck with the quiet air and absence of hurry bespeaking perfect self-possession. This was Miss Clara Barton, president of the American Association of the Red Cross, who has gone to Europe as one of the three national delegates appointed to the Conference of the Societies of the Red Cross to be held in Geneva next month. Talking over her plaus and the objects of the conference, Miss Barton said:

I go straight through to Geneva immediately upon my arrival in Laverpoot. The conference opens on the first of September and wilcontinue for several days. Upon the 7th the convention of the International Peace Association of which I am a vice-president, commences, and I shall attend that also. My companion delegates to the Red Cross Convention are Messes, suchion and Salomons, and we are appointed by the Government and not by the society, as are also the other delegates, of whom there will probably be some thirty or forty. The questions to be discussed are important and interesting. We shall consider the training of nurses in the time of prace and all santary questions connected with service in the field; the relation in time of war between the millister authorities and the serieties, the means to be employed for establishing the identity of these of 1863; and the measures to be latiently incontents of Geneva conceived in the sprince these of 1863; and the measures to be latiently incontents of these of 1863; and the measures to be latiently incontents are in all twenty-one important questions to be discussed.

THE LYDIAN MONARCH IN PORT.

The disabled steamship Lydian Monarch arrived at her pier in Jersey City yesterday in tow of tugs sent down the bay to meet her. Captain Hugett denied that the ship was short of provisions, and said that even if the stores had given out there was enough food in the cargo to have supported a regi-ment. The piston of the high-pressure engine broke in mid-ocean and the ship made the rest of the trip ment. The piston of the high-pressure engine broke in mid-ocean and the ship made the rest of the trip with her low-pressure engine and sail. The rumor that some of the horses on board died of want of food was pronounced false. There were ten horses on board, and all of them came safely. There were three days' provisions on board when the ship reached St. John's. The captain denies that he refused the offers of the Austral and Iowa to tow the ship in because the price was too high. He says that his ship was in his danger and fully able to take care of herself. The passengers all express themselves in high praise of the chief engineer, Mr. Grengg. He worked night and day on the engine after the accident, and at last succeeded in getting it in such shape that he was able to proper the ship by the low pressure engine. It took two days to get things in working order. The fooder for the horses gave out pearly a week before

Chief Engineer G. W. Melville of the Greely relief steamer Thetis, who is one of the survivors of the Jeannette Expedition, was asked by a TRIBUNE reporter yesterday what he thought of the story related by Captain Wilson, of the bark Fluorine, now at Philadelphia from Ivegut, with respect to the finding of relies of the Jeannette party on an ice floe off Julianeshaab in June last. He said that the story was extremely improbable, and not worthy of belief, and in his opinion was a hoax gotten up by some one familiar with the prevailing currents in the Arctic regions, for the purpose of creating a sensation. As to the possibilities of such relies being found he said:

When the Jeanne te was abandoned in latitude 77° 8° north and longitude 157° 32° east, there was a los of debris left upon the ice, which included a lot of wornout bear skins, old sails and ropes, worthless guns and a metallic life-boat. When we started on the march to the southward from the camp we left beain I a five-gailon breaker or water-keg in which was placed a number of documents relating to the Jeannestic expedition. CONDITION OF THE WALL STREET BANK. CONDITION OF THE WALL STREET BANK. The deputies of Bank Examiner Paine will not have their report of the condition of the Wall Street Bank ready for some days. Until this is prepared and submitted to the consideration of the Attorney-General of the State no change will take place in the status of the bank. Director Charles J. Osborn said vesterday that until the Attorney-General took action it was impossible to say what would be done with the institution. He said that the officers were not bothering for the present about the question whether Cashier Dickinson had been under bond or not, or who were his bondsmen. The vital point at present was to collect the leans of the bank, and all of the attention of the officers was being given to that. He had no doubt that the depositors will be paid in full at the proper time.

STRIKING BRICKLAYERS JUBILANT. STRIKING BIRICKLAYLES JUBILANI.

There is jubilation in the ranks of the striking bricklayers over the surrender of Contractor Richard Deeves, one of the largest of the resisting bosses. This, following closely the victory over Peter and Joseph Scheiffer and Samuel Louden, fills the men with hope that there will be a stampede on the part of the bosses on Monday morning, and that the strike will be definitely settled by Wednesday. They are not abating their efforts to raise money, however, and the funds are coming in satisfactorily.

He had been removed from the barrack. His son is outlooking for him. All the prisoners were time over to Juan Perez de Leon, first judge of this district. The authorities deny that any prisoners have been sent to Vera Cruz or Yucatao. The conspiracy is reported to have been to imprison or shoot Diaz and Goulzies, and was under the leadership of Jurdon, Editor of La Opinion National, and two colonies, Salcedo and Rodriguez. The Government detective are said to have obtained it ells of the conspirators in Jardon's possession. General Allatome has not been arrested. The plan of the enspiracy is said to have been to reconstruct the Government as it was in 1876 under President Leredo. It is thought the cause was betrayed by a compositor in Jardon's office. Jardon was arrested with his wife, and they are kept in close confinement.

It is true that a few arrears have been made; but the so-called conspiracy is so ridiculously weak that it does not merit the name.

THE COURTS.

JUDGE BARTLETT'S SEVERE COMMENTS. Justice Bartlett commented severely yesterday upon the course which had been adopted regarding a bail bend for Gerald T. Tully, who is in Ludlow Street Jail, charged with having embezzled £15,000 from the Preston Banking Company, limited, of England. Tully was first arrested in a civil suit, and was lodged in Ludlow Street Jail. Then on a criminal charge he was taken before United States Commissioner Osborne, and was committed for extradition. Judge Brown, however, on June 19, held that Tully could not be extradited, and dismissed the writ. As Tully was leaving the court room, he was re-arrested in the civil suit, on the pretence that his sureties had surrendered him on exoneration of bail, and he was again incarcerated in the jail, where he has since remained. His counsel, Charles H. Luscomb, yesterday made an argument for his liberation, declaring that Tully had been unlawfully held since Judge Brown's decision was made. The counsel asserted that two clerks in the office of Martin & Smith, the counsel for the banking company, had made out a bond in $70,000 as bondsmen, but had never justified, and that the illegal nature of the proceeding was especially made manifest in the fact that his client had not given his consent, in fact, did not know that the bend had been made out. A pretence of surrendering his client had been made by the alleged bondsmen, Mr. Luscomb said, and through this trickery Mr. Tully had been held in jail ever since. The counsel for the company stated that the bond had been prepared for the protection of the Sheriff's office, on a suggestion from that source.

Justice Bartlett thereupon characterized the proceedings regarding the bond as "scandalons," declaring that he did not know of a more extraordinary thing in the annals of juristryudence, that a bond should thus be made out without the knowledge or consent of the person interested. It placed those implicated in an unfortunate position, the Justice declared. Decision was reserved. the court room, he was re-arrested in the civil suit, on
